

FestiSnap Ad Bible

Oct 1, 2026 · @Niels

The product

FestiSnap is a compact black point-and-shoot camera with a retro film-camera look and no preview screen. Its pitch writes itself: the feel of a disposable camera at a festival, without buying film.

What the two photos show:

Part	Front	Back
Body	Matte black, rectangular, rounded corners, strap lugs on both sides	Smooth matte black panel
Texture	Pebbled black leatherette across the middle band	None
Branding	White "FestiSnap" wordmark top left with a small blue check badge	None
Lens	Large round black lens barrel, centred, with a silver centre	None
Top row	Optical viewfinder window, rectangular flash window top right	Viewfinder eyepiece, speaker grille top right
Controls	Silver advance lever with a red dot, lower left	OFF / ON / flash slide switch, right
Display	None	Small display reading "RETRO", a flash icon, a battery icon and a shot counter "0050"

What we can safely claim from the photos: screen-free (only a shot counter), built-in flash, viewfinder, retro filter mode, an advance lever for the film-camera ritual. Claims about megapixels, battery life, storage or price need the spec sheet first.

The brief an AI reads first:

You make people-free static and short-video ads for FestiSnap, a black retro point-and-shoot camera without a preview screen. The camera is always the hero and must match the reference photos exactly: shape, leatherette band, lens, flash window, advance lever, wordmark. The ads sell a feeling (being in the moment, festival nights, real memories), shown through scenes, flash light and printed-looking photos, never through people.

Market research

Screen-free retro cameras sell on one idea: put the phone away and live the moment, then get the photos back later as a surprise. The winners turn the camera's limits (no screen, few shots, a wait) into the main selling point.

The trend is real and current. Gen Z and young millennials buy screen-free cameras for festivals and nights out (WVIA, Jul 2026). Canon PowerShot sales rose nearly sevenfold from 2022 to 2025, and Camp Snap says its sales more than doubled in a year. YPulse found up to two-thirds of Gen Z and younger millennials use analog tech (Digital Camera World).

Brand	Product	Core message	How they show it
Camp Snap	Screen-free digital, about $70, 8 MP, filters, counter LCD	Live in the moment; looks like a disposable, works digitally	TikTok-led: reviews, unboxings, sample photos, celebrity sightings; TIME Best Inventions (Tom's Guide)
Flashback ONE35	"Re-disposable" digital, 27 shots, 24 h "development" in an app	The wait is the magic; no plastic waste, no film cost	The develop-wait as suspense; Kickstarter funded in 13 minutes
Kodak Ektar H35	Half-frame film, $49.99, 72 shots per roll	Cheap way into real film	Colourway lineups (sand, sage, brown, black), sample-photo grids
Fujifilm Instax	Instant print cameras	"For When It Clicks": real connection, prints as keepsakes	Big films of unplanned moments between friends, OOH, retail, tours (LBB)

What the category does in its ads:

1. Sample photos are the proof. Flash-heavy, slightly soft, warm images sell more cameras than specs. Every brand shows the output.
2. The limit is the hook. No screen, a counter, a wait: framed as freedom, not a flaw.
3. Nostalgia cues. Disposable-camera shapes, date stamps, film borders, printed photos in hands or on tables.
4. Colourway lineups for choice and collectability.
5. Moments, not megapixels. Specs appear only as small supporting icons.

The gap for FestiSnap: competitors show mostly people. A people-free ad has to carry the feeling through the camera itself, flash light, festival scenery and the photos it makes.

Sources were found through web search on 1 Oct 2026; the network policy blocked opening the pages directly.

Selling angles

Six angles cover what this category sells. Test them as separate concepts, not mixed in one ad.

Angle	The promise	Dutch headline ideas
Phone away	Be at the festival, not on your screen	"Telefoon weg. Feest aan." · "Geen scherm. Wel herinneringen."
The surprise	You see the photos only afterwards	"Pas thuis zie je wat er gebeurd is." · "De beste foto's zie je achteraf."
Real flash look	That raw, warm flash photo your phone can't fake	"Echte flitsfoto's. Geen filter nodig."
Festival-proof	Small, cheap to lose, made for the crowd	"Past in je heuptas." · "Gemaakt voor de wei."
Better than a disposable	Retro feel, no film to buy, reusable	"Wegwerpgevoel. Niet wegwerpen."
The gift	A present for the festival friend	"Het cadeau voor je festivalmaatje."

Rules for the copy: the feeling comes first, the spec second. Keep headlines to two to six words. Use specs only as small icon labels (flash, viewfinder, retro mode), and only claims you have verified.

Ad archetypes

Six archetypes make people-free camera ads. Each follows the same three zones as the Pep Schep Ad Bible: headline on top, the camera in the middle, the action at the bottom.

Archetype	Use for	Skeleton
A. Hero at night	Phone away, festival-proof	The camera on a festival surface at night (picnic bench, glitter-dusted table, wristband next to it), lit by its own flash firing, stage lights out of focus. Short headline, pill CTA
B. Camera + the photos	Real flash look, the surprise	The camera lying among 6 to 10 printed flash photos of empty festival scenes: a tent at sunrise, confetti, a Ferris wheel, stage lights. Handwritten arrow from camera to photos
C. Studio feature callouts	Retargeting, product clarity	Front and back views on seamless light grey, like the reference photos. Thin lines to 3 or 4 parts: flash, viewfinder, retro counter, advance lever
D. Phone vs FestiSnap	Phone away	Split frame: left, a phone with a cracked screen and 99+ notifications on a sticky bar; right, the FestiSnap in clean light. Headline across the top
E. Counter countdown	The surprise, urgency	A close-up of the back display, the counter changing (0050, 0049...) as a 6-second video, or a still with a bold number. Headline: "Nog 50 momenten."
F. Festival kit flat lay	Gift, festival-proof	Top-down flat lay: the camera with a bum bag, wristband, sunglasses, earplugs and bucket hat. Every item real and on brand

Video versions (5 to 8 seconds, made with image-to-video): the flash firing in the dark; the advance lever clicking on its own in stop-motion; the counter ticking down; prints dropping onto a table one by one.

Visual rules

The camera must look exactly like these two photos in every ad. Attach both to every AI request.

Always:

- Matte black body, pebbled leatherette band, round black lens with a silver centre, flash window top right, silver advance lever with a red dot.
- The "FestiSnap" wordmark and its small blue badge exactly as on the product, top left on the front. It is the product's own print, so it stays.

- On the back: the small display with "RETRO" and a four-digit counter, the OFF / ON / flash switch, the speaker grilles.
- The camera is the sharpest, brightest object in the frame and takes up 35 to 55% of it.
- When the flash fires, the light looks like real on-camera flash: hard, bright centre, quick falloff, deep shadows behind.

Never:

- People, hands or body parts. When something has to move (the lever, a print), show it as stop-motion without hands.
- A preview screen on the back, extra buttons, a zoom lens or other colours we don't sell.
- Pep Schep's name, logo or pep-schep.nl anywhere in the ad.
- Specs, prices or ratings that aren't verified.

Mood palette: night blues and violets with warm flash white for festival scenes; warm sunrise oranges for "the morning after"; seamless light grey for studio ads, as in the reference photos. Accent for type and buttons: hot pink, like the Pep Schep reference ads.

Master prompt

Paste this once at the start of a chat with the two product photos attached. Then request each ad with the template below it.

You design ads for FESTISNAP, a black retro point-and-shoot camera without a preview screen, sold to Dutch and Belgian festival-goers aged 18-30. The two attached photos (front and back) are the product reference. Your ads are static images (9:16, 4:5 or 1:1) and short image-to-video loops for Instagram, Facebook and TikTok.

THE PRODUCT, EXACTLY

- Matte black rectangular body, rounded corners, strap lugs on both sides.
- Front: pebbled black leatherette band; large round black lens with a silver centre; viewfinder window; rectangular flash window top right; silver advance lever with a red dot lower left; white "FestiSnap" wordmark with a small blue badge top left.
- Back: viewfinder eyepiece; small display showing "RETRO", a flash icon, a battery icon and a four-digit counter; OFF / ON / flash slide switch; speaker grilles. No preview screen.
- Never change shape, colour, parts or wordmark. Never add buttons, screens or lenses.

WHAT WE SELL

The feeling, not the specs: phone away, being in the moment, raw flash photos, the surprise of seeing your photos only afterwards, a camera made for the festival crowd.

HOW AN AD LOOKS

- No people, no hands, no body parts. Movement is stop-motion without hands.
- Three zones: headline in the top 25-30%, the camera in the middle (35-55% of the frame, sharpest and brightest object), CTA at the bottom.
- Scenes: festival at night (stage lights out of focus, glitter, wristbands, picnic benches), sunrise after the festival, or seamless light grey studio like the reference.
- Light: real on-camera flash look when the flash fires; warm, slightly grainy, nostalgic.
- Printed photos in the scene show empty festival moments (tents, confetti, stage lights, Ferris wheel), never faces.

ARCHETYPES (say which you use)

A Hero at night · B Camera + the photos · C Studio feature callouts · D Phone vs FestiSnap · E Counter countdown · F Festival kit flat lay

TEXT

- Dutch, informal, 2-6 word headline, optional one-line subtitle, one pill-shaped CTA in hot pink with white text and an arrow.
- Optional handwritten marker note with a curved arrow pointing at one real part of the camera.
- Icons only for verified features: flitser, zoeker, retro-modus, geen scherm.
- Render text exactly as I write it. Check Dutch spelling letter by letter.

NEVER

- The name Pep Schep, PEPSCHep, any Pep Schep logo or pep-schep.nl.
- Prices, megapixels, battery life, ratings or other numbers unless I give them.
- Extra text, icons, arrows or logos I did not ask for.

BEFORE YOU GENERATE

Reply first with: archetype, scene, headline, subtitle, CTA, which side of the camera is shown, and the props. Generate only after I say go.

Request template:

New FestiSnap ad. Angle: [phone away / surprise / flash look / festival-proof / better than a disposable / gift]. Archetype: [A-F or "you choose"]. Format: [9:16 / 4:5 / 1:1 / 6-second video]. Headline: "[...]". Subline: "[...]". CTA: "[...]". Side shown: [front / back / both].

Ready-made concepts

Eight concepts, one or more per angle. Each prompt assumes the master prompt and both product photos are already in the chat. Text in quotes is what the AI renders.

1. "Telefoon weg. Feest aan." (A, phone away)

9:16. The FestiSnap, front facing camera, stands on a wooden picnic bench at a festival at night. Its flash is firing: hard white light on the bench, glitter and a fabric wristband beside it. Background: out-of-focus violet and blue stage lights and string lights, no people. Headline top: "Telefoon weg. Feest aan." Hot-pink pill CTA bottom: "Shop de FestiSnap →".

2. "De beste foto's zie je achteraf." (B, the surprise)

4:5 top-down. The FestiSnap lies on a dark wooden table among nine glossy printed photos with white borders, all raw flash shots of empty festival scenes: a tent at sunrise, confetti on grass, a Ferris wheel at night, a stage with lasers. Warm morning light. A handwritten white marker arrow curves from the camera to the photos with the words "pas thuis gezien". Headline top: "De beste foto's zie je achteraf." CTA: "Bestel nu →".

3. "Geen scherm. Wel herinneringen." (C, studio callouts)

9:16 on seamless light grey, matching the reference photos. Front view above, back view below, both centred with soft shadows. Thin black lines with small bold labels point to: the flash ("Echte flitser"), the viewfinder ("Kijk door de zoeker"), the display ("Retro-modus + teller"), the advance lever ("Doordraaien zoals vroeger"). Headline top in heavy black condensed type: "Geen scherm. Wel herinneringen."

4. Phone vs FestiSnap (D, phone away)

1:1 split down the middle. Left, on a sticky festival bar under harsh light: a smartphone with a cracked screen and a stack of notification badges, slightly dull. Right, on the same bar in warm flash light: the FestiSnap, crisp and glowing. Labels under each: left "Dit", right "Of dit". Headline across the top: "Wat neem jij mee?"

5. "Nog 50 momenten." (E, counter countdown, video)

6-second 9:16 loop. Macro close-up of the back display of the FestiSnap in a dark tent lit by a pink string light. The counter ticks down 0050, 0049, 0048 with a soft click each time; between ticks a white flash pulse lights the tent canvas. End frame: headline "Nog 50 momenten." and CTA "Shop nu →".

6. "Gemaakt voor de wei." (A, festival-proof)

4:5. The FestiSnap lies in short grass at golden hour, a little dust on it, next to a festival wristband and a bucket hat. Low sun from behind, warm haze, an empty festival field and main stage far in the background. Headline top: "Gemaakt voor de wei." Small subline: "Klein. Licht. Altijd mee." CTA: "Shop nu →".

7. "Wegwerpgevoel. Niet wegwerpen." (B, better than a disposable)

1:1 on a light grey seamless background. Left: three generic yellow-and-black disposable cameras in a small heap, slightly faded. Right: one FestiSnap standing upright, sharp and lit. No brand names on the disposables. Headline top: "Wegwerpgevoel. Niet wegwerpen." CTA: "Bekijk de FestiSnap →".

8. Festival kit (F, the gift)

4:5 top-down flat lay on warm off-white canvas. The FestiSnap in the centre, front up. Around it, neatly spaced: a black bum bag, sunglasses, a fabric wristband, foam earplugs in a small tin, a folded bucket hat, a small gift tag. Soft daylight. Headline top: "Het cadeau voor je festivalmaatje." CTA: "Shop het cadeau →".

Concurrent-advertenties

De concurrenten winnen met drie dingen: ze laten de foto's zien die de camera maakt, ze maken van "geen scherm" een vrijheid, en ze maken de camera een verzamelobject. De directe concurrent in Nederland is Phomo: €69,95, schermvrij, verkrijgbaar via bol.com.

Merk	Product	Wat ze in ads doen	Wat wij ervan lenen
Phomo (NL)	Schermvrije digitale camera, €69,95, 8 MP, 6 filters, in beige, blauw, bruin, bordeaux	"Blijf in het moment", feestjes, diners en reizen; kleurenlijnen; TikTok-creators (bol.com)	Feest en vakantie als setting, Nederlandse toon
Camp Snap	Schermvrij, 10 kleuren met namen als "Stealth Black" en "Tangerine Drift" (B&H)	Voorbeeldfoto's, kleurenrijen, flitser als stijl, TikTok-reviews	Flits-esthetiek, voorbeeldfoto's als bewijs
Kodak Charmera	Sleutelhangercamera in blind box, $29,99	Verrassing en schaarste: 7 kleuren plus een geheime; uitverkocht in 24 uur, 10× de verwachting	Schaarste ("OP = OP"), het idee van een drop
Flashback ONE35	"Re-disposable", 27 opnames, 24 uur ontwikkelen	De beperking als belangrijkste feature: wachten maakt het spannend	"Pas achteraf zien" als hoofdbelofte
Kodak FunSaver	Wegwerpcamera met film en flitser	Feest, bruiloft, festival; eenvoud	Vergelijking: hetzelfde gevoel, zonder wegwerpen

De gemeenschappelijke formule: een camera die er analoog uit ziet, flitsfoto's met warme korrel, een setting met vrienden of feest, en een kopregel over aanwezig zijn.

Waar FestiSnap kan winnen:

- Festival als enige thema. Phomo en Camp Snap mikken breed (kamp, diner, reizen). FestiSnap claimt het festival.
- Zonder mensen, maar met de foto's. De prints of polaroidranden van lege festivalmomenten vertellen het verhaal zonder gezichten.
- Een drop-gevoel. Een gelimiteerde oplage of seizoensdrop, zoals Charmera, zonder valse aantallen.

Gevonden via zoekopdrachten op 1 okt 2026; de pagina's konden hier niet direct worden geopend.

De prompt

Deze prompt combineert wat bij de concurrenten werkt: de foto's als bewijs (Camp Snap), "pas achteraf zien" (Flashback) en festival-schaarste (Charmera). Plak hem in ChatGPT of Gemini met beide productfoto's als bijlage.

Maak een verticale advertentie in 9:16 (1080 x 1920) voor de FestiSnap, een zwarte retro-camera zonder scherm. Gebruik de twee bijgevoegde productfoto's (voor- en achterkant) als exacte referentie: zelfde mat zwarte behuizing, generfde leatherette-band, ronde zwarte lens met zilveren midden, flitsvenster rechtsboven, zilveren doordraaihendel met rood puntje, en het witte "FestiSnap"-logo met blauw badge linksboven. Verander niets aan vorm, kleur of onderdelen en voeg geen scherm of knoppen toe.

Scène: de ochtend na een festival. De camera ligt schuin op een houten picknicktafel, voorkant naar de camera, als scherpste en helderste object in beeld (ongeveer 45% van het frame). Rond de camera liggen negen geprinte flitsfoto's met witte randen, losjes uitgewaaierd: allemaal rauwe flitsfoto's van lege festivalmomenten, zoals een tent bij zonsopgang, confetti in het gras, een reuzenrad 's nachts, een podium met lasers, een dranghek met slingers, plastic bekertjes op een rij. Geen mensen, geen gezichten, geen handen, ook niet op de foto's. Naast de camera ligt een stoffen festivalbandje. Warm, laag zonlicht van links, lichte korrel, nostalgische analoge sfeer. Op de achtergrond onscherp een leeg festivalterrein met een podium.

Tekst, exact zo, letter voor letter:

- Bovenaan, groot, zware vette sans-serif in wit met één woord in fel roze: "De beste foto's zie je achteraf." ("achteraf" in roze)
- Daaronder, kleiner en dun: "Telefoon weg. Feest aan."
- Een handgeschreven witte stiftnotitie met een gebogen pijl van de camera naar de foto's: "pas thuis gezien"
- Onderaan een afgeronde roze pill-knop met witte tekst: "Shop de FestiSnap →"
- Onder de knop drie kleine lijn-iconen met labels in kapitalen: "GEEN SCHERM", "ECHTE FLITSER", "RETRO-MODUS"

Lay-out: kop in de bovenste 25%, camera en foto's in het midden, knop en iconen in de onderste 20%. Houd de bovenste en onderste 250 px vrij van belangrijke tekst. Veel rust, geen drukte.

Niet doen: geen mensen of lichaamsdelen, geen naam of logo van Pep Schep, geen pep-schep.nl, geen prijzen, geen megapixels of andere cijfers, geen extra tekst, iconen of pijlen die hier niet staan. Controleer de Nederlandse spelling.

Varianten om mee te testen: vervang de scène door "nacht op het festival, de flitser van de camera gaat af" (concept 1), of door "lichtgrijze studio met voor- en achterkant" (concept 3). Houd de rest van de prompt gelijk, zodat je alleen de scène test.

QA checklist

Zoom in on every generated ad. If one box fails, send the AI one numbered fix list and tell it to keep everything else the same.

- ☐ Camera matches both reference photos: body, leatherette band, lens, flash, lever with red dot
- ☐ "FestiSnap" wordmark spelled right, top left, with its blue badge
- ☐ No preview screen on the back; display shows RETRO and a four-digit counter
- ☐ No people, hands, faces or body parts, also not in printed photos
- ☐ No Pep Schep name, logo or pep-schep.nl
- ☐ Every Dutch word spelled right
- ☐ No unverified specs, prices or ratings
- ☐ Camera is the sharpest, brightest object; headline readable in one second
- ☐ Flash light looks like real on-camera flash

Sources

Found through web search on 1 Oct 2026; pages could not be opened directly from this environment.

- Trend: WVIA on the digicam return · Digital Camera World on YPulse study · CBC on Gen Z cameras
- Camp Snap: product page · DPReview review · Tom's Guide
- Flashback ONE35: PetaPixel · Yanko Design on V2
- Kodak Ektar H35: DPReview
- Fujifilm Instax: Campaign · LBB